We have changed the open day to the 19th of September. Leaflets will be ready next week and we would like people to come in and grab some if possible!

The biggest way to help this is to bring people that you know in to find out about what we do. it can be family and friends or anyone that you think may benefit from knowing about our services, so as long as you are OK with them knowing you come here of course.

Some of you may remember Zoe looking for help with leafleting, she wasn't able to recruit anyone but bravely headed off herself to do it. And thank google she did! Whilst out leafleting she made a contact at the jobcentre who is going to share awareness of our charities to anyone who may benefit and she made a contact with a guy that runs a youth club who will be doing the same :)
Below is an artists impression of how Zoe may have looked whilst leafleting.

Both leafleting and surveying is set to get going again. Outreach training will be arranged in the next couple of weeks for anyone that can help out with these.

18U is currently building a massive database of schools in englandshire and needs help to do so. Talk to Jenna Jerri or Marley to get involved

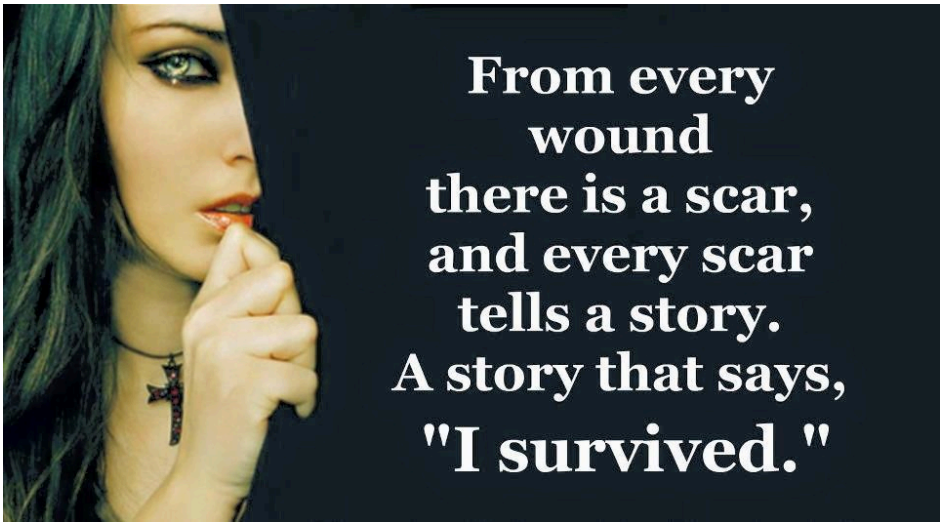
We decided to change up the Halloween party a little. We are now having a nightmare before xmas themed xmas party on Saturday the 12th December. Save the date!

We also decided that we are hosting a kids Halloween party at the centre where volunteers and staff will provide the entertainment. There will be food, music, games, ghost stories, and a haunted hallway tour. It will be open to any young children, preferably from families who may not be able to do much with their kids normally.

18U is requesting brain power! We need ideas for -

New video clips to be used in the fight against abuse and violence and the increase of personal safety. We need to know what relevant issues to address and how to do so! Get involved now - making videos is always a great laugh and a direct way to help others.

We are also looking to get the self harm gallery moving. We need models and ideas for photo composition. How do we portray various forms of self harm in a photograph? Any ideas welcome!



In other news!

Caitlin (1) is about to embark on an epic adventure of Sistine chapel magnitude!

Some of us recently went camping

And some climbed Nevis!
